

Aquatic Life

Grenada prides itself on its pristine beaches and crystal clear turquoise waters. Swimming, snorkelling and diving are not only spectacular...

read more >

Grenada prides itself on its pristine beaches and crystal clear turquoise waters. Swimming, snorkelling and diving are not only spectacular, but are safely protected by the existence of reef formations which shield the islands. There is fine game fishing around the Island for Marlin, Tuna and Sailfish.

These diving waters are completely unspoilt with lots of fascinating shipwrecks and reefs to explore. A vast array of marine life can be found here including moray eels, angelfish, octopus, sea-horses and many others. From November through May, over 15 species of whales are found here including Killer, Humpback and Sei.